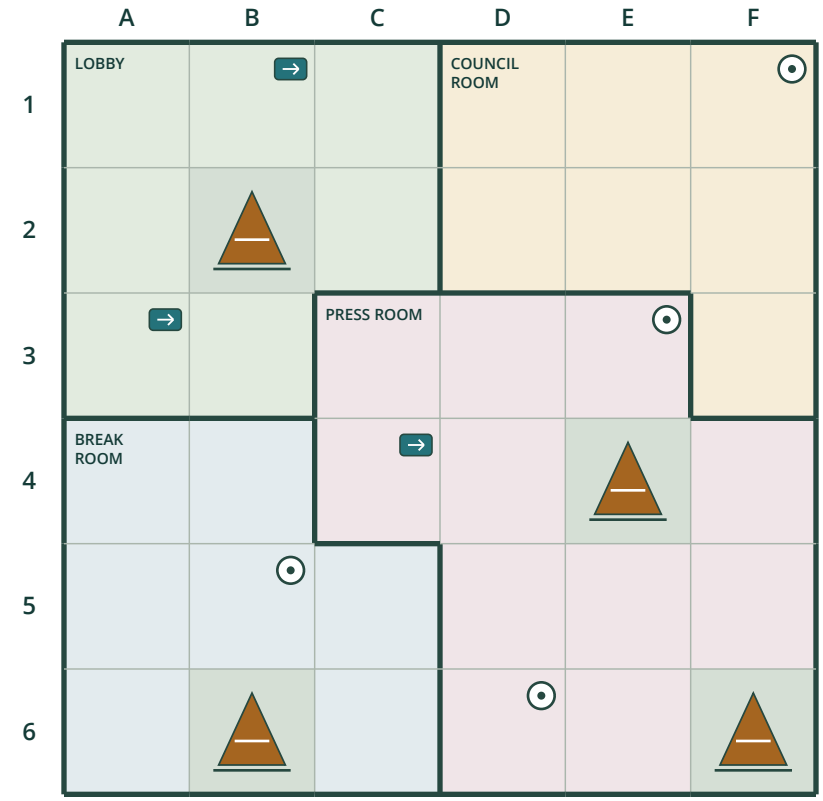
Who Took the Fourth Exit?

NEWS DESK / CASE NO. 01

Wes Sideman brought a model roundabout to a public meeting. At the gavel, Cindy saw someone pull off the cardboard fourth exit, but couldn't see their face. Big Cedar reports the committee went around the issue three more times.

COMMITTEE FLOOR PLAN



HOW TO SOLVE

Place each person once, one per row and one per column.
Thick walls divide rooms.
At the gavel, exactly one other person was in Cindy's room.
Arrows and chairs are open.
Cones are blocked. "Beside" a cone means sharing a side, not a corner.
One row south: next row down.
West: any column to the left.
